Optimists and Pessimists

Now at the beginning of a new school year the assembly room is full of pessimists and optimists. The former view with dire terror everything that happens. The latter smile hopefully on everything, blissfully certain "that things will turn out right." Neither pessimist or their kind live with us. They live in another world of their own creation—a world full of foreboding, the horizon always filled with threatening clouds. What is more they are not a help but are an impediment to school progress. If you want to help out our school, be an optimist—a realist. See things as they are, not as you would like them to be. Don't look at the world through smoked glasses but through the clear crystal of understanding. That will be a real help to yourself, your friends, and your teachers! It will make your school life, in general, brighter and happier—Try it!!!

To Our Teachers

We the pupils of Grayling High, wish to extend our sincere thanks to our teachers and all of their helpers for the good time which we had at the church and High School gymnasium last Friday evening. Everyone reports a splendid time and eagerly awaits a similar entertainment next year.

Class Spirit Day a Big Success

Everything went off nicely last Friday afternoon. The first of the games was the rope tying contest. This was won by the Freshmen class with nearly all of their men free. Only one Senior was left, but he still possessed his rope. Everyone has been expecting great things of Francis Brady (Continued on last page)

VISITING SOUTH PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

CAPT. EMERSON BATES GIVES INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF TRIP

Capt. Russell Emerson Bates, son of Postmaster and Mrs. M. A. Bates, who is stationed with the U. S. Army at Manila writes interesting letters telling of a trip to the southern group of Philippine Islands and Borneo. The first appears in this issue. Others will follow weekly.

July 28, 1928

On board "Palillo."

DEAR ONES:—

You no doubt received my radio telling you I was leaving on a trip to the southern Philippine Islands and to Borneo. A week of the trip has gone by and here I am at the barrio of Liguian on Batan Island, just east of Lizon and slightly north of San Bernardino straits. I am enjoying a most unusual spectacle. I am writing this on board the boat, and as I look out the cabin door the sky is overcast with a reddish brown cloud. A continuous roaring and rumbling is in my ears. For the first time in my life, I am within sight of an erupting volcano. Mt. Mayon broke loose about a month ago and has been more or less active ever since. We had to put in for coal at this barrio and consequently are near its activities. Tomorrow we are going over to Legaspi and take a ride around the volcano. It can be done in about three or four hours and the captain of the boat will wait for us.

We left Manila a week ago today on the revenue cutter "Palillo," commanded by Capt. Juan Panopio. Today is our first calm day. For seven days we tossed around. At one time we were dodging four typhoons and succeeded in getting away from all but the edge of one of them. Every night we hunted safe harbors. Despite the rough weather we have had quite a good and interesting time. We touched at various places along the eastern coast of Mindoro and the opposite shore on Luzon. We went to the southern tip of Mindoro, Amburion Island, then over to Romblon on Romblon Island. Last night we were at San Jacinto on Ficao Island, elav-ing about midnight and coming to our present place. All of these islands are of the same general appearance, high hills coming down to the shore either roughly wooded or dropping down in sheer volcanic cliffs. Very few beaches except in little bays fealty, would be a much more capable president than the Democratic ing maps on the boat show that you cannot get out of sight of land. Thousands of islands everywhere. I got off a few times but the smaller places are all the same as I have seen dozens of times before. The same Nipa huts, with staring people jabbering in their dialect, half naked children running around, with the usual pigs, chickens and dogs completing the rest of the picture.

Today's stop was perhaps one of the most interesting as we went up to see a native coal mine. I don't know the value of mines but some officers with me who did, said it was very valuable. The seam of coal was twenty feet high and about thirty wide. It looked inexhaustible from the inside but of course I don't know. I suppose you had wondered whether I was seasick or not, I'll ease your mind and tell you that I was. Practically every day I was sick. It was so rough at times the cots on deck would slide to the rails. You see we sleep on deck as it is too hot to go to the stateroom. Our cots just toss around like feathers. In addition it has rained every night and between the spray from the waves and the rain we have a rather moist time. However we are getting out of the typhoon area so expect to enjoy ourselves.

Day after tomorrow we will be at Cebu, the largest city in the islands after Manila. We go to a little isthmus in the island which is down near the equator, which will be my nearest approach to the line. This is in the Sulu group of islands where we will make several stops, one being at Jolo. It was at Jolo that General Bates made a treaty with the Sultan of Sulu. We will also go to Zamboanga. In fact we go to every large island in the group except two, Samar and Leyte, and we pass within sight of them. Our stops in Borneo is Sandakan. It is a free port and is in British North Borneo. I notice we are leaving Liguian so will close this short letter. Will write more later. Emerson.

DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPERS ENDORSE HOOVER

Eighty six newspapers are listed as Democratic or independent in their political preferences have come out editorially for Hoover and Curtis, according to a recent tabulation. They are located in 15 states, from Minnesota to Texas and from New York to San Francisco.

In every instance, their preference for the Republican candidates is based upon a sincere conviction that high hills coming down to the shore either roughly wooded or dropping down in sheer volcanic cliffs. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Postoffice, Grayling, Mich., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1919.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1928

WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH YE EDITOR!!

There appeared an article in the September 13th, 1928 issue of the Crawford Avalanche, entitled, "What's the Matter With Our Supervisors?"

In that article the statement was made that at the last meeting of the Board of Supervisors the question of sending a representative from Crawford County, to appear before the State Tax Commission, where they set the valuation of the different counties, was voted down by our supervisors. As a matter of fact the question was never voted upon by the Board. They did however informally discuss the question in the April, 1927 session, but the matter was not placed before the Board to be voted upon.

The above mentioned statement also stated that the State Board raised Crawford county's valuation from $3,000,000 as a former valuation as against $3,234,000 this year, whereas the facts are that formerly Crawford county was valued at $3,300,000 and this year they lowered the valuation for Crawford county to $3,234,000. Thereby reducing the valuation this year for Crawford county to the amount of $66,000.

Further more the State Tax levied against Crawford county in 1927 was $10,049.66 and this year the State Tax levied against our county is $8,083.56 giving us a reduction of $1,966.10 on our State Tax for 1928.

As the Editor is informed that the above entitled article has caused the Board of Supervisors as a Board and as individual members, considerable criticism that was unwarranted, if he had only known the facts before the above mentioned article was printed and therefore Ye Editor states that before printing any other article criticising the proceedings of the Board he will first determine the real facts.

The above is what the Supervisors say; at least the copy was brought to this office by one of their members who gave the inference that it was from that body. Whether or not their statement is intended as a criticism or is sent to us for information, it is most heartily welcome here. That is just exactly what we want, although the last part of their article might just as well have been omitted, for that idea is one of our policies in all cases, and not alone for the supervisors. It is never our intention to embarrass or to slam either our public officials or any individuals. The acts of any public officials are entitled to be known by the public. If such officials have acted wisely and in good faith, "they should worry". If they may have been in error there's nothing so very serious about that—just human nature, that's all. That they must meet objection at times everyone will agree. These six men are managing a three million dollar corporation that belongs to the taxpayers, and you may bet that we are interested. We are watching them just as they want us to do if they are honest officials.

Now, therefore, let us make it plain to anyone who may not understand the principles of the Avalanche as well as most people. We have not the slightest malice against any member of the Board of Supervisors, either singly or collectively—never have had.

Where did we get the information relative to our editorial of Sept. 13th? May we call attention of the reader to the published report of the State Board of Equalization that was published in the Avalanche in our issue of Sept. 20th. Here is the report for Crawford county as taken from the Auditor's official report: Crawford County—Valuation as equalized by the Board of Supervisors, 1928, $3,000,000; amount added by State Board of Equalization in 1928, $234,000; amount deducted by State Board of Equalization in 1928, none; aggregate of valuation as equalized by the State Board of Equalization in 1928, $3,234,000; percentage of State tax, .00039432. It would appear from the above statement that Crawford county had been given a boost in valuation $234,000. The Board of Supervisors have explained in their statement that instead of an increase that our valuation had been lowered, as indicated by the figures they have submitted above.

The State Board of Equalization holds these meetings and it is expected that the Counties will be represented there. The Boards of supervisors have the right and privilege of sending a representative, and we believe it is good practice to do so. We can hardly expect that our Board is going to agree with us on that, but they no doubt honestly believe in their side of the matter.

The Board says we were wrong in saying they voted against sending a representative to the meeting. No doubt they are right. But we believe the taxpayers would approve their sending a representative to such important meetings. It's all right to save money but it's better to know how to spend money wisely, we believe.

The County Grange has presented the Board of Supervisors with a petition asking that a county Agricultural agent be engaged. That's fine. We believe this county needs such an agent.

Everyone likes to encourage honest and intelligent enthusiasm.

ELDORADO NUGGETS

Mrs. Margaret Wehnes, one of the oldest pioneer women of South Branch Township, was laid to rest in Rock cemetery Tuesday afternoon. For many years she was a well loved friend and neighbor here, until a few years ago when she went to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Dennis at West Branch, where she resided at the time of her death, which occurred last Saturday morning, caused by heart failure. She was born in Germany 88 years ago, May 28th. She was the mother of five children, all of whom survive her.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hartman and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Smith of Flint were overnight visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hartman Monday night.

The condition of Mr. Joseph Scott, who has been ill at his home for several weeks, remains unchanged at last report.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Veith of Lansing were week end visitors at the Funchs homes. On their return Sunday they were accompanied by Mrs. Mattie Funch, who will remain for a few weeks, visiting friends and relatives in the southern part of the state.

Avery Babcock and his brother, Robert, arrived Saturday from Detroit for a few days visit with relatives here. Also to harvest his potato crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferguson, who came to attend the funeral of Mrs. Ferguson's mother, Mrs. Wehnes, are spending a day or so visiting their daughter, Mrs. R. L. Jackson.

R. L. Jackson has accepted a position as caretaker of the Red Dog Club.

TRACTORS TO FIGHT FOREST FIRES

By way of preparing for any fall fires, the forest fire division of the conservation department, has just added two portable tractors to its equipment at the Gaylord and Roscommon stations. These tractors, which are mounted on trucks for transportation in emergency cases, have been found very satisfactory in fighting fires this year.

TO ALL MEMBERS OF GRAYLING LODGE NO. 248

You are notified of and cordially invited to attend a joint meeting of all Masonic Lodges in your vicinity, to be held Monday evening, Oct. 15th, at Traverse City. A 50c supper will precede the evening's program; reservations must be made in advance as soon as possible, through your local secretary. Please act promptly on this.

The speaker, Rev. Carlton Brooks Miller, whom the Grand Lodge Service Commission is sending on a Masonic speaking tour to Traverse City, Newberry, Escanaba and Houghton, is a powerful speaker and always holds his audiences from start to finish. He is one of the most sought after on our Masonic Speakers' Bureau and always booked up months in advance.

Help the Commission and the Traverse City lodge make this an outstanding Masonic event in your part of the state, by not only being present yourself, but also urging as many others to attend as possible. It will be an evening of good fellowship, a chance to become better acquainted with your neighboring brethren, and incidentally an opportunity to hear a wonderfully inspirational address by Rev. Carlton Brooks Miller on "What Came Ye Here To Do?"

Don't forget to make supper reservations! Master Masons only.

"A DESIRE TO IMPROVE CRAWFORD COUNTY'S RURAL SCHOOLS"

Who will constitute a committee with your commissioner to realize the accomplishment of this purpose? I am not finding fault with anybody. The teachers are showing an interest in our boys and girls worthy of high commendation. They are also accomplishing something as is proved by the increased number each year of our rural students that are attending high school and college. School officers and patrons too are in many instances proving themselves to be deeply concerned in a higher intellectual development of the species.

But acknowledging this, if a business or professional man were to go with me to visit the schools of Crawford county you would admit that I have a reason for writing this article in behalf of our boys and girls. If anyone desires to challenge me on this proposition, you will certainly be welcome to make the trip with me this coming spring. It is my opinion that the condition of our rural schools in many instances is just merely the result of habit. It was that way last year and so I think it will be this year and so on indefinitely.

We got along with a very few books last year and so why spend our money for more. In many cases the library money is used for other purposes than for purchasing library books as the law requests. Text books are very rare in some schools and many of them are the same their parents used in the same school. They are so antiquated that they are of little use in modern education. In quite a large number of instances in this county the teachers have furnished books for their pupils to read and study.

While there has been considerable improvement on buildings, there isn't much in some instances to improve. In one school building where I visited last year there was indeed very little either to encourage or to assist the teacher in the performance of her duties. It seems as though there is sufficient valuation in these districts to warrant an improved condition.

This article is written with the kindest feeling, and it is just a plea for an increased interest in rural schools. John W. Payne, Commissioner of Schools.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Francis O. Peck celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Saturday, October 6th, when a number of relatives came from far and near to spend the day with them, bringing a sumptuous "wedding" dinner and a number of nice presents among which were several "pieces of gold", the gift supreme for the occasion. During the evening a number of friends and neighbors called to extend congratulations and wish them well.

Miss Sarah O. Sewell and Mr. Francis O. Peck were united in marriage in Antrim, Shiawassee county, October 6th, 1878, coming to Crawford county two years later. They lived at first in Pere Cheney where Mr. Peck worked in the mills. In '85 they came to Grayling where Mr. Peck worked for several years in the mill, and then as deliveryman for the Commercial store. For three terms he served Grayling township as highway commissioner, during which time he built the crushed stone road to Nieders, the first road of that kind then in northern Michigan, and the first gravel road to Lake Margrethe.

In the early years Mrs. Peck was a true angel of mercy and many an older settler will remember her with gratitude for the time she has helped them thru sickness and trouble.

Their guests Saturday were two nephews of Mr. Peck and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Peck of Royal Oak and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peck of Perry, Mich., their daughter Mrs. Harry Wright, husband and daughter Mary of Lansing; several nieces and nephews of Mrs. Peck, Mrs. Charles Stanfield of Munith, Mr. and Mrs. Leamon Sewell, Mrs. Richard Sewell, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Cross of Flint; Mrs. Ora Rothger of Breckenridge; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Esemann of Mt. Morris and Mrs. Rose Pond of Grayling.

A newspaper man in Iowa seeing a farmer driving along with a new tire from some Chicago mail-order house, expostulated with him for not buying at home. "But," said the farmer, "this is the first time I ever heard that there is a tire shop in this town. I have taken your paper for five years and never have seen a line of advertising in it that would indicate that there was a tire shop within fifty miles of here."

CIRCUIT COURT

The fall session of Circuit Court closed last yesterday afternoon and following is the result of the cases on the calendar.

In the case of Robert Alexander for violation of the prohibition law the matter was held over, as it was learned Alexander was held in St. Ignace on a similar offense.

Carl Thurston was found not guilty by a jury of the charge made against him of violation of the liquor law. Fred Sawyer, charged with the same offense plead guilty and was sentenced by Judge Smith to serve from six months to one year in Jackson prison, with the recommendation that he serve one year.

Judgment in the amount of $2000 was rendered in favor of Hazen Keene plaintiff against Joseph Belski only, in the former's case of trespass on the case against Theodore Callahan and Joseph Belski.

The case of John Malco vs. Charles Marker, trespass on the case, the American State Bank vs. James E. Kellogg and the divorce case of Lena M. Clothier vs. Ernest E. Clothier all were continued.

A decree was granted in the foreclosure case of Louis Savage against Augusta Clahassey and Charles A. Worst.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS ATTEND ANN ARBOR-OHIO WESLEYAN GAME

Cosch Laverne Cushman headed a group of high school boys, last week, for attending the U. of M.-Ohio Wesleyan football game at Ann Arbor Saturday.

They started out in two cars and, according to some reports, they had a great time. In the Cushman car were Mr. Hill, Elmer Fenton, Stanley Stephan, Amos Hoesli and William Garner. They experienced no trouble except five flat tires on the down trip, and an all night ride arriving at their destination at about noon Saturday.

Louis Konvicka drove the other car—a model T. With him were Francis Brady, James Post, Charles Wylie and Thorwald Sorenson. They left Grayling at 12:30 Friday night. They got along nicely until they reached Flint, where they got completely lost. They are said to have spent an hour or more wandering about in the Vehicle City before they were able to pick up the trail again.

However the boys saw what they went to see—the football game. The outcome wasn't as they would have liked it, it was a good game just the same, and all had a good time.

REMOVE GAR PIKE FROM LAKES

Gar Pike, notorious bad actor of the fish family, is constantly pursued by the department of conservation. A crew of two men are just about ready to close up an active season of work in dragging this unwanted inhabitant out of the lakes of Michigan.

The fishing crew, goes about the job in a business like manner. They have ten 300 foot nets of inch mesh which are set in the lake. They are lifted daily and all the gar pike are promptly despatched. Daily catches run as high as 70 to 80 and after the first day's fishing drop off rapidly until two or three are taken. The party seldom remains on a lake longer than 5 or 6 days.

Very seldom do any other species of fish become entangled in the nets. A report that comes to the department shows that occasionally a grass pike or an over sized perch is ensnared but the number is negligible. Most of these are in perfect health and turned loose immediately.

An experiment is being made by our village fathers which is a long step in the right direction. A number of carloads of coarse gravel with a liberal mixture of clay, from the bank in the south part of the county has been shipped here and is being spread over the driveway on Michigan Avenue. It is believed that it will pack nearly as hard and smooth as the pavements, and will certainly be a great improvement over the deep sand.

HALF-BILLION DOLLAR TOURIST BUSINESS FOR MICHIGAN

(By E. M. T. Service)

Carroll F. Sweet, Grand Rapids banker, president of the West Michigan Tourist & Resort Association, at the annual meeting of that organization, October 4, declared that approximately $500,000,000 was brought into the state this year by foreign licensed cars. He also declared that the state treasury profited to the extent of $5,000,000 in gasoline tax returns and that the state can well afford to put more money into tourist development.

Is THIRTY the Love? Deadline!

Bad Fisher, born Harry C. Fisher in Chicago, in 1884, attended the public schools there and also the University of Chicago. He began his career as a cartoonist in San Francisco in 1908 with the San Francisco Chronicle, where he created Mutt and Jeff. Fisher was the first cartoonist to request his work to be on a large scale. He also has appeared in moving pictures and vaudeville. Mr. Fisher owns a large racing stable which includes such famous horses as Dan Patch, Mr. Heat and Nelly Moran. The latter won the Kentucky Derby in 1924. During the war Mr. Fisher served as an officer in the English army. He has been married twice.

By BUD FISHER
Mr. John N. Wheeler,
Dear John:

You sent me a quotation from a so-called, is, may be, or what have you, a Dr. Will C. Durant, "A man past thirty is incapable of love..."

Personally, I have never had the displeasure of meeting the doc and the displeasure is no doubt mutual, but with one peek at the doc's past I can easily understand that the doc looks like more or less of a sealer, a better sort of seal, and could easily be credited with assuming the aforesaid attitude. I naturally assume that the doc passed the thirtieth year of his life and might be even now on the home stretch. The older they are the harder they fall for the bunk—that there is any age limit on love.

In these days the doc can't be "ruled off for trying." It wouldn't be necessary to stop at a filling station to see that the doc is running on a flat tire. In fact it would be easily noticed by a quick squint at the picture of his philosophical bean that the doctor nurses a neatly clipped lock of ice on top of the only motive portion of the human skull, in dentistry known as the parking space of the lower molars. In other words known as the jaw, or to be more to the point what is known in the social set of Madison Square Garden as the "button."

If the doc can prescribe human activity in a couple of lines then I can diagnose his own statement by a slant at his mop.

One can also notice, even two could notice, that the doc filters the fresh air to his bellows via the hedge route under his bank designed by nature for the sense of smelling, not for sniffing one of the five senses—if any.

All of which makes it necessary for a chaste salute, generally known as a kiss, to be passed to the kisser's facial gap by means of a pen-shooter—especially if the kisser's skin is a bit sensitive if she or it had not gone through a course of intensive training, using a coil of barbed wire as a sparring partner.

Perhaps this self-inflicted idea of mainly beauty—covering a chin with a set of bristles—may have caused many a fair damsel or damsel to "break slow at the barrier." I have long considered the possibility of interviewing bewhiskered professors throughout the country on this point and revealing the results of my inquiry to an eager nation.

This handicap might possibly make the doc soupy on the weaker or in this case of synthetic love diagnosis, stronger sex. The good doc's own actions tell his own words as they have been quoted to me that "A man past thirty is incapable of love." The unnecessary packing of chin germ catchers might show that dignified doctors are in love. Yes—in love with themselves. Understand, me now, I am not making this personal.

Otherwise, generally speaking, why the stray moss on these chin joints that are wobbling around on all the best lecture platforms these days? Is it ego, vanity, conceit, or just plain bunk? Ask me another!

But why dignify mental perspiration? When the skull is dead, the brush frequently still grows—any one undertake? If you don't want to ask any undertaker, take my word for it. This might be circumstantial evidence in the case at hand. How do I know? Don't feed the trained eels as you pass out on your left.

Jim, bring in the mop.
Yours as usual,
BUD FISHER.

BETTER TO BE IN CHAINS THAN THE MORGUE

By Erwin Greer
(President Greer School of Electrical and Automotive Trades, Chicago, Ill.)

Ask the average motorist what he fears most in the daily handling of his machine and the answer will be "skidding." It is that sickly sinking of one's interior that comes with the sudden and entire loss of control inevitably accompanying a bad skid. The reckless, the foolish, and the incompetent pedestrian can be guarded against; even the man who loses himself in a brown study in the middle of a busy street, and the old lady who flutters back and forth in the path of a car like a befuddled hen can be taken care of with the brakes. But, with a skid once started, only Providence and the skilful hand at the wheel are of any avail.

Skidding is the result of the failure of one force to counteract another—in other words, the momentum of the machine is in excess of its traction. And right here I can offer the best anti-skid rule of all: make it an invariable rule to keep the chains in the car, and not trust to remembering to put them there just before you start out.

As a producer of skids of the most virulent type, street-car tracks are way above par. If there be a reasonable coincidence of their level with that of the roadway, little difficulty is experienced in getting off them when dry, but, when wet, the driving wheels will bind sufficiently to make it hard to release them except by turning the steering wheel much further than would be necessary under ordinary circumstances. The result is to bring them out with a jerk, and the nastiest kind of a swing around follows, unless the street be clean, nothing but pure undiluted luck can save you from hitting something; and even if there are no wagons or pedestrians, street-cars, or other impediments, there is still the curb to be reckoned with. Personally, I would rather drive through two or three inches of mud than get caught on the street-car tracks on a wet day, in congested traffic, with no tire-chains on. As the only sure and dependable means of preventing skidding, anti-skid chains stand supreme. I always have a set with me. They are easy to put on and easy to take off, and if they were twice as hard to handle, I should still believe that the element of safety they add to my pleasure would make them well worth while.

WORLD'S LARGEST SEWAGE TREATMENT PLANT OPENED

The largest sewage plant of its type in the world was officially opened here this week by the Sanitary District of Chicago. The North Side plant, as it is called, covers 97 acres and was built to purify the sewage of an ultimate population of 1,840,000. It serves an area of 78 square miles, which includes eight suburbs as well as a large section of the city of Chicago.

Construction of sewage treatment plants in cities and villages has progressed during the last few years as part of a nation-wide fight against polluted water and water-borne diseases. Congestion of population has made it necessary to treat sewage artificially in order to prevent the spread of epidemics.

The Chicago plant was built as part of a program to dispose of the city's wastes without injuring neighboring communities.

Formerly the Sanitary District treated all its sewage by diluting it with water from Lake Michigan and sending it through a canal 30 miles to the Illinois river. This method was opposed by Great Lakes cities which claimed that it was lowering lake levels and by cities along the Illinois river because of pollution of the river water.

The controversy came to the attention of the Secretary of War, who permitted Chicago to continue this procedure on condition that it would begin installation of sewage treatment plants. The newly opened plant, supplemented by three already in operation, on being constructed and one being planned, will eliminate the necessity of drawing heavily on Lake Michigan for water and will bring to an end the heavy pollution of the Illinois river. The North Side plant utilizes the "activated sludge" process, in which the sewage is sent through screens and settling tanks, where most of the solids are removed. It is then turned into large basins where air is blown through it. This air starts a biological action in the sewage which destroys the impurities. After the aeration has been completed, remaining fine solids in the sewage are allowed to settle out in sedimentation tanks into an adjoining channel.

PLANS FOR ANNUAL JOINT E. M. T. MEETINGS

(By E. M. T. Service)

The annual joint meetings and banquet of the East Michigan Tourist Association and the North Eastern Michigan Development Bureau will take place at Bay City, October 25. The program for the business meetings which will take place in the afternoon at the log offices of the two associations is virtually complete. The banquet in the evening which has always been a unique affair will this year, based on tentative plans, exceed all other previous affairs in appeal.

The business meetings in the afternoon will start with the meeting of the Development Bureau, to include reports of the officers and committees, and election of officers for the coming year. The business meeting of the East Michigan Tourist Association will follow immediately. After both business meetings there will be a joint meeting of the members of the two organizations to discuss problems of both which are in many respects closely associated.

Due to the large attendance at last year's banquet which tested the capacity of the auditorium in which the banquet was held, plans are under way to hold the banquet portion of the meeting in another building which will accommodate 700 or 800 persons. Efforts are being made by the officers of the two organizations to make this year's annual meetings exceed all previous occasions in interest, profit and entertainment.

PICTORIAL LIFE OF HERBERT HOOVER

No. 12

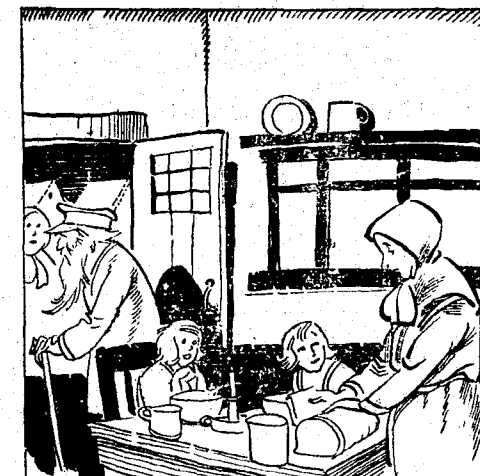

By Satterfield

1. As Director of Belgian relief, Hoover became the center of great diplomatic and financial questions.

2. At his command food and supplies were safely conveyed through a blockade made bitter by hate.

3. Despite almost insuperable obstacles, the Hoover food got through to the people of little Belgium.

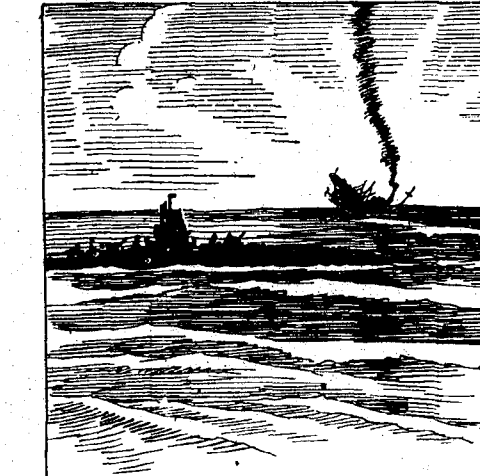

4. His first meeting with King Albert of Belgium was on the battle field.

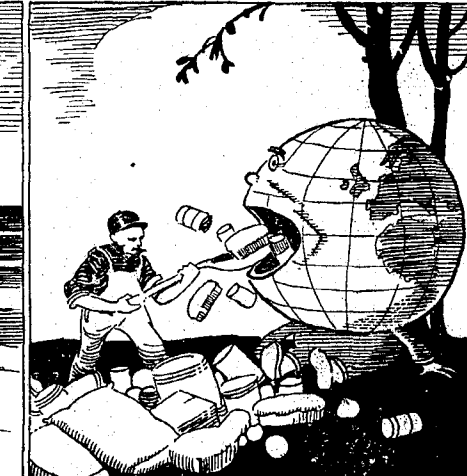

PICTORIAL LIFE OF HERBERT HOOVER

By Satterfield

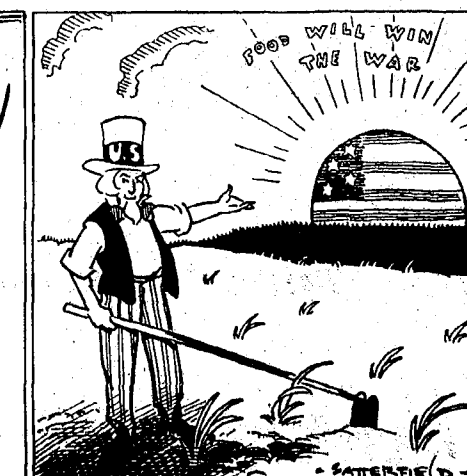

1. When the submarine campaign brought America into the war, Hoover reported for duty in Washington.

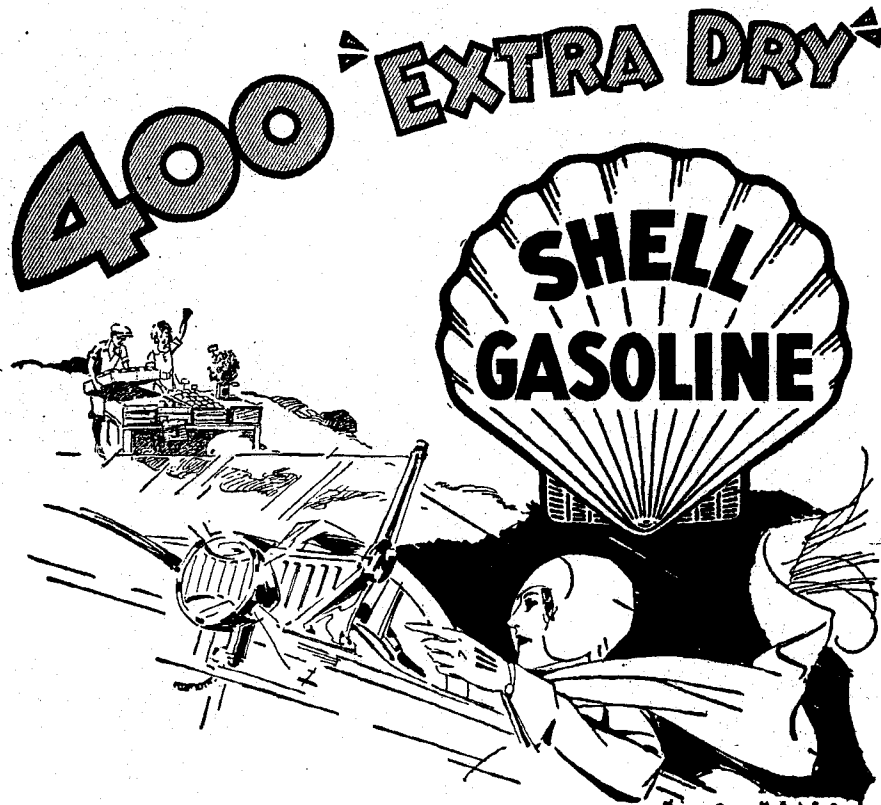

2. Appointed food administrator, he faced the gigantic task of feeding one-third of the civilized world.

3. All groups and classes stood behind him and cooperated in the great task.

4. "Food will win the war" became the universal slogan. "Hooverize" became a household word.

Enjoy the thrill of extra power... without extra cost!

A filling of 400 "Extra Dry" is like adding extra cylinders to your motor. There's a thrill about driving with this gasoline that ordinary fuel can't give you. Get-away is no longer an empty phrase... it really means something. Hills that were formerly a burden become just a challenge... a challenge that can be met victoriously with something in reserve.

The Shell refining process is responsible for the added driving pleasures 400 "Extra Dry" brings. It is a discriminating method which eliminates all the sluggish, greasy elements and retains only the most volatile, live and responsive parts. Every drop vaporizes instantly... every particle is converted into power... you get full mileage from every gallon.

Until you have tried 400 "Extra Dry" Shell Gasoline you have deprived yourself of the thrill which comes from motoring at its best... and remember, this extra pleasure can be realized without one cent extra cost.

Where does it come from

—THIS MORE DIRT PER MINUTE?

RECENT tests show that The Hoover removes more dirt per minute than any other cleaner. Where does this dirt that other cleaners fail to remove come from?

It is largely the deeply-embedded, clinging grit, wedged in the pockets at the base of the rug. Ordinary suction won't remove it. It must be beaten loose.

This The Hoover does, by "Positive Agitation," a cleaning principle which vibrates the rug on a cushion of air, shaking loose the dirt and bringing it to the surface to be suctioned away.

You will find this exclusive cleaning method amazing in its performance. We will gladly give you a demonstration any time you say, in your own home. You can now secure "Positive Agitation," not only in the famous de luxe Hoover, but in a popular-priced style selling for no more than an ordinary vacuum cleaner.

Only $6.25 down; balance monthly. Liberal allowances for your old cleaner.

SCHOOL NOTES

but he ran outside the lines and was disqualified.
The tug o' war was won by the eighth graders. The seventh graders all received a good wetting.
The flag rush was won by the sophomores and juniors. The freshmen fought hard to obtain the flag but it was so well defended that no one reached it. Afterward the flag was divided among the sophomores and juniors.

This was all of the games, but at six o'clock a banquet was held in the church. The tables were very attractively arranged in the form of a G and covered with green crepe paper with white doilies. Mr. Hill kept us from eating too fast by leading several songs during the sumptuous meal. With Superintendent Bogue acting as toastmaster, Stanley Stephan, President of the Class of '23 welcomed the freshmen class.

Alton Jarmin, Vice-President of the Freshman class replied in a very satisfactory manner. Dr. Keyport gave a talk and the feast at the church ended with a song.

Last but not least, came the dance with music by the High School orchestra. During the intermission a program was given by the Freshmen under the direction of Miss Richards. Everyone enjoyed this affair and are hoping for another next year.

Freshmen Entertain Students at Dance
The following cast took part in the program last Friday evening during an intermission at the dance:
Part One.

Bride—Francis Heath.
Bridegroom—Nels Olson.
Minister—Alton Jarmin.
Bride's Mother—Della Budd.
Bride's Father—Farrel Gorman.
Groom's Father—Myron Burrows.
Groom's Mother—Ellen King.
Flower Girl—Jerome Kessler.
Bridesmaids—Marie Brown, Estelle Larson, Anna Ingalls, Fern Lovely, Best Man—Russell Dunham.

It was very clever and well played. Everyone seemed to enjoy it very much. At least everyone was smiling—all but Mr. Cushman. We wonder why he wasn't? Perhaps a wedding doesn't appeal to him.

Part Two.
Miss Richards taking the part of a young man looking for a sweetheart was entertained by six girls taking the parts of the following characters: Lillian Ahman was "Just the Girl of His Dreams," Edith Bidva, "Sweetheart of Six Other Guys," Elizabeth Swanson was "Just His Weakness Now," Alice Mahone, "Ramona," Irene Randolph, "Just a Big Beautiful Doll." His sweetheart was found when he met Betty Welsh and he sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Each boy had a privilege to invite a girl friend and each girl a boy to the dance last Friday evening. The following took advantage of it:
Elmer Fenton—Ruth Chamberlain.
Kendall Stinchcomb—Ona Lozon.
Elmer Neal—Francella Failing.
Helen Lietz—Howard Schmidt.
Ida Canfield—Jesse Pratt.
Laura Sammons—Dick Thompson.

The Latin II class with the exception of two or three had an lesson Monday morning. That's the way to begin a week. Keep it up.

Last Thursday a debate meeting was called after school. There were eight people present, all of whom seemed anxious to get to work. The question this year is "Resolved That a Federal Subject for the Development of an American Merchant Marine would be a wise policy."

Our first debate is to be on the sixteenth of November, which gives us enough time to get well prepared to do our best. Mr. Hill, an excellent speaker himself, will be the teacher so why should we fail if we work hard with such a good instructor?

A new ruling has been made in regard to the writing of examinations. This rule is to be strictly enforced and it is an endeavor to save the teachers of the school a great deal of extra work.

Formerly many pupils were intentionally absent on the day of "exams" in hopes of getting an easier "exam" by making it up later. This necessitated the writing or making of a new set of questions by the teacher. This new rule prohibits any making up of "exams" caused by absences unless these absences are excused by a doctor's or nurse's certificate of illness.

Junior Items of Interest
The American History classes have set each Friday class period aside for a brief discussion of current topics. This promises to be real interesting and the pupils are sure to profit by it, for each pupil is expected to take part in the discussion. It will also lessen the monotony sure to be found when the same type of studying is done continuously.

The Juniors are glad to see Arthur Williams, who has been absent for some time, back among us again. Arthur is wearing glasses, quite a surprise to us—a few more professors added to our number.
At this writing Miss Richards reports that she has received some fine work from her Latin II class in the past week.
This week finds the students of the World History class studying about Mohammed. He surely is interesting and I am sure we all enjoy hearing about him.

What about those "hanging dome gardens," Jean?
The English Literature classes have been making old fashioned theaters. These are fashioned after the Globe which existed in Shakespeare's time. Several good looking ones have been handed in already.

The following boys and faculty motored to Ann Arbor for the Ohio-Michigan game. The score was 7-17. Ohio winners. Lewis Konvicka, Thorwald Sorenson, James Post, Francis Brady, Charles Wylie, Amos Hoelsi, Elmer Fenton, William Garner, Stanley Stephan, Mr. Cushman and Mr. Hill.

Laura Knibbs has been absent from school since Thursday noon on account of illness.

A Freshman's Diary
Monday:
Got up late, and when I got to work it was time for school so I beat it to school, and there was the professor waiting at the door of the assembly room. "Forty-five minutes after school," said he, so I had to stay but had fun throwing erasers.

Tuesday:
The Ladies Aid Society has been dropped because no one knows how to make good coffee and sandwiches.

Wednesday:
Pa got a letter from Tennessee from an old friend saying he had lost his wife; and pa, by mistake, sent back a card of congratulations.

Thursday:
Mrs. Brown had her regular Thursday night supper. She seems to be there just in time and of course she invites herself the same as usual.

Friday:
Had a flag rush at school today and I got my shirt torn into little ribbons. I also got a black eye, but you ought to see the other fellow's.

Saturday:
Had a ball game with the Cubs. They beat us 11 straight games, but they can't keep it up forever.

Sunday:
Pa went to church for the first time; and, of course, he fell asleep in the middle of the sermon. Pa sez it's cheaper to sit at home and listen through the radio, and as they pass the collection plate he can sit back and smile.

What is believed to be a record for stock selling campaign conducted by inexperienced stock salesmen was hung last week, when the employees of the Michigan Public Service Company in six days sold $125,000 worth of Preferred Stock in over selling their quota of $100,000 by 25%.

The Cheboygan District was one of the districts which over sold its quota during the week. The quota for that territory was 25% over sold, which speaks very well for the condition of this territory. The sale campaign, which was held exclusively by employees, started on the morning of Monday, September 24. The various districts of which there are seven were given until Saturday night to sell their quota.

On Monday night District Manager J. B. Griffin of the Elk Rapids district reported his quota sold. The remainder of the districts reported their quota sold at different times during the week and by Saturday night the entire quota was 25% over subscribed.

A Fitting Word
"With politics, so far as they have to do with the strife of parties, and the rivalry of candidates, the Church has no concern. But with politics—the moral aspects of the life of the state—she must deal promptly and fearlessly."—Henry Van Dyke.

FORD STATES CASE FOR HOOVER

No better statement of the case for Hoover has been issued than that presented by Henry Ford.

"We are," said the automobile man, "just on the threshold of what I would call the industrial and comfortable age," and Mr. Hoover will be its first great government leader. He is our first example of the new type of statesmanship."

This is the key to the entire presidential campaign. Upon this note the Daily News has laid stress since the name of Hoover for President was presented to the country.

The industrial age has scarcely opened, says Ford. And as every engineer knows, Ford is literally correct. The possibilities along the lines of production, power development and use, cheaper and more efficient forms of transportation, have only been scratched upon the surface.

Amazing as much of our machinery appears, it is clumsy, inefficient, costly in operation, compared to the machinery that is to come.

All this means the complete reorganization of industry, which in turn calls for vast financial undertakings, the shifting of population and new political alignments.

Whether we like it or not, these changes are coming. They will affect every living being in America ultimately in the world. In the process they can work much damage if they are not understood and intelligently directed toward promoting the public welfare. And it is as one of the few men who understand these things, who can direct and help control vast social forces, that Hoover is needed as the next President of the United States.

Ford and Hoover have a similar outlook, a similar vision. They both know poverty and unemployment can be abolished. Both have worked to this end. They represent policies and plans that are designed to break the back of poverty.—Philadelphia Daily News.

OFFER USE OF BOOKS FOR WINTER READING

In making plans for passing the long evenings of the winter season, farmers and their families should not neglect the opportunity of obtaining reading matter offered for loan by the Michigan State College library.

The material offered to the farmer and his family contains discussions on both agricultural and home economics subjects. This material is set apart in the so-called package loan library and may be obtained on request.

A list of the subjects will be sent to any one interested who will request the list from the Reference Librarian, M. S. C., East Lansing.

Patrons will be asked to pay only the mailing cost, and any of the subject matter can be held for four weeks. The offer is limited to residents of Michigan.

Local leaders of home economics extension groups will find much of this material serviceable in their work. It is said. Farmers clubs and other rural organizations will find it valuable for use in studies of rural problems. The material is in pamphlet form and the mailing costs will be small.

A survey conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture shows that rural people are not behind city dwellers in the amount of reading done, but that the farmers do most of their reading during the winter.

A "used car"
is unused
transportation

A GOOD automobile is built to stand years of use. It will provide many thousands of miles of satisfactory transportation.

But only occasionally are all its years and all its mileage used up by one owner. Many owners turn their cars in after an average use of only two to three years—long before the cars' lives have been exhausted.

This custom brings into the market every year so-called "used" cars which represent outstanding opportunities to buy unused transportation at low cost.

Every year more and more people appreciate this fact. Today millions of families are driving cars of which they are the second or third or even fourth owners; and this year the volume of new car sales and trade-in transactions has created wider choices and greater values in unused transportation than ever before.
